

Moved bodies

BERGSTEIN + LACOUT

July 10 - August 4, 2025

TOURNEMINE GALLERY

Tournemine Gallery is delighted to present this summer an unprecedented duo show by French artists Bergstein and Chantal Lacout. A dialogue between two artists who differ in terms of technique (drawing / sculpture) and generation (born in 1988 / born in 1943). "Moved bodies" attempts to uncover, behind the classicism of the subject and the sobriety of the form, the timid radiance of feeling.

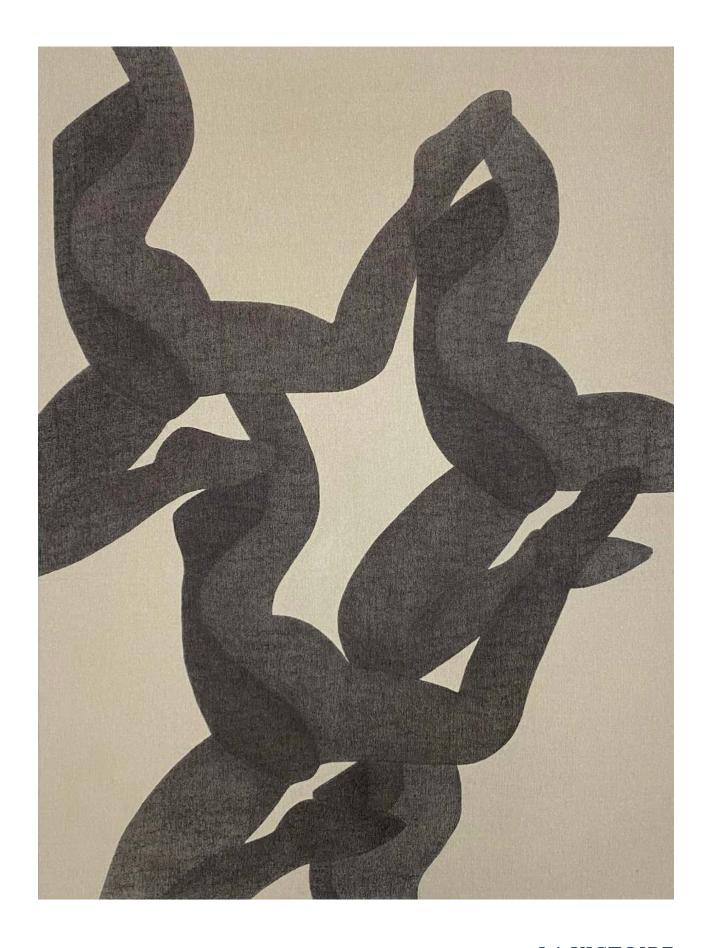

Devoid of faces, the figures communicate with each other entirely through the movement and attitude of their bodies, compelled to move closer to feel the presence of the other, to brush against each other's skins, sometimes to the point of blending them together.

Both artists share a delicate approach to materials: Bergstein's monochrome nuances and the exposed fiber of linen canvas, Lacout's hammered surface of bronze and deep patinas. Both also favor a certain formal bareness, which is less austerity than restraint. But it is precisely to this absence of frills, this refusal of the superfluous, that we owe the inner emotion that emanates from and surprises these silhouettes captured in the moment.

Painter Pierre Soulages, speaking of his work, once said "the more limited the means, the stronger the expression". This, in all humility, seems to be the case here too.
